The Veto Message—Senator Trumbull's Argument Against It

The main features of the message which accompanied the Freedmen's Bureau bill when that proposed act was returned by the President to the Senate, were reported by telegraph some time ago We now have the veto message in full. The principal reason assigned for the President for his veto is the same as was reported by telegraph, viz that the Southern States must be admitted to representation before Congress can, constitutionally, enact laws which shall be binding upon the people The President also thinks, or at least says, that the freedmen will be protected by the State authorities; that "his condition is not so exposed as may at first be imagined" Now the whole country knows, and Mr. Johnson cannot be ignorant that most of the late slave States have enacted black codes quite as infamous as that of Jamaica, and that if these laws are enforced, as they surely will be the moment the military is withdrawn, the condition of the negro will be infinitely worse than when he was in a state of slavery. Against such ugly facts as these negro codes, all fine spun theories about the "laws of labor," "demand and supply," &c, are futile and impotent. The veto message was ably and convincingly answered by Senator Trumbull when the question of passing the Freedmen's bill, notwithstanding the President's objections, came up in the Senate. We quote a part of his argument:

Having taken somewhat an active part in the passage of this bill I feel called upon to vindicate myself from having urged upon the consideration of the Senate a bill so unconstitutional and so at variance with the actual condition of the country as this is declared to be What is this? It is an amendment to the Freedmen's Bureau bill It is not an original measure, nor a measure establishing a Bureau, but is merely a [illegible] history of an act already in existence Nor does it, as seems to be supposed by some, materially enlarge the powers of the Freedmen's Bureau, as it already exists It is an entire misapprehension to suppose that such is the object of the bill, or that such would be its effects. It does little more than give the sanction of law to what is already being done without any statute or provision The Freedmen's Bureau, as I have said, already exists Courts are held by the Freedmen's Bureau throughout the entire country, where the Bureau has any operation under the military authority of the United States Laws [illegible] it is believed, with the safety of the Government or the people, little with military operations are not aside at this time in all these States. The object of the bill was to continue in existence the Freedmen's Bureau; not permanently, not as a permanent institution—all such intent was disavowed during the discussion of the bill It is known that the Congress of the United States assembles every year and no one supposes this proposed bill to establish a Bureau to be engrafted as a permanent institution of the country—far from it No, sir. It is not intended that the bill shall go into the States and control the domestic affairs of those States. Far from it It is simply a bill designed to provide, not for 4,000,000 of emancipated slaves or refugees, but only for the indigent, for those who are unable to take care of themselves, so that they could become self supporting. Congress at an early day passed a law declaring free all slaves who come within the lines of our armies. They came flying within our lines, without clothing, without hats, wounded, foot sore, and destitute. Many of them entered our ranks to fight for the cause of the country, and others we had clothed and fed While the war was in progress, while these people were flocking around our armies, on the 3d of March, 1865 not one year ago the Congress of the United States passed a law to systematize the clothing and feeding of these destitute negroes, and place them under the charge of a special department of the military establishment, whose duty it should be to look after them. That was called the Freedmen's Bureau, and officers were assigned to take charge of it, chiefly from the army Since that time the conflict of war has ceased; and there are still on our hands some of these destitute people who must be provided for—a far less number than would have been upon our hands if no system had been devised for taking care of them, for finding them employment and setting them upon tracts of land wherever it may be obtained And I undertake to say that there has been saved to the Government millions of money by the establishment of the system through which employment has been found for these people, and they have been made self-supporting, who would otherwise have been entirely dependent upon the bounty of the Government for support Since the Freedmen's Bureau was organized, an amendment has been adopted to the Constitution of the United States declaring that Slavery shall not exist anywhere within its jurisdiction. By virtue of that amendment, hundreds of thousands of slaves have been set free; they have become free in the midst of a hostile population; they have been set free without any of this world's goods.

Something must be done to take care of these people; and the Freedmen's Bureau has been endeavoring to do that something. Now, sir, the Freedmen's Bureau has not had jurisdiction over these four millions of people Its work has been confined to a small compass, as I shall presently show by the official record, and this [illegible] which comes to us denounced as unconstitutional as a great public charity, as an institution designed to feed, clothe, take care of, and furnish homes for four millions of people, is designed only to find employment for these destitute, these ignorant, these unprovided for people, who are few in number compared with the great number of blacks in the whole country, and not simply for the freedmen and for the refugees. The President in his veto message says there is no immediate necessity for the proposed measure He says the Act which was passed to establish a bureau for the relief of freedmen and refugees, in the month of March last, has not yet expired It was thought stringent and expansive enough, says the President, for the purpose in view in time of war. Now, sir, when will that act expire? What was it? It provides in its first section that there is hereby established in the War Department, to continue during the present War of Rebellion and one year thereafter, a Bureau of refugees freedmen, and abandoned lands By the terms of the act it was to continue during the War of Rebellion and one year thereafter Now sir, when did the War of the Rebellion cease? Why so far as the conflict of arms is concerned, all admit that the War ceased when the last Rebel army laid down its arms That was some time in the month of May when the Rebel army in Texas surrendered to the Union forces; so that the present bureau must by its own limitation have expired within one year from the time when the war ceased I do not hold that the consequences of the war are over I do not understand that peace is restored with all its consequences We have not yet escaped from the evils inflicted by the war Peace and harmony are not yet restored But the war of the rebellion is over and this bureau must expire in May next according to the terms of the act that was [illegible] on the 3d of March, 1865, and according to the views of the President as expressed in his veto m[essage].

Sir I desire to speak respectfully of the Executive, but I would like to know where in that bill, is any provision that extends military jurisdiction over all parts of the United States, containing refugees and freedmen? Sir the bill contains no such clause. It is a misapprehension of the bill. What does it say? The clause of the bill upon that subject is this: "The President of the United States, through the War Department and the Commission, shall extend military jurisdiction and protection over all employees and officers of this Bureau in the exercise of the duties imposed or authorized by this act or the act to which this is amendatory" Is not the difference manifest to everybody between a bill that extends military jurisdiction over the officers and employees of the Bureau and a bill which should extend military jurisdiction over all parts of the United States containing refugees and freedmen? Why, Sir, this bill makes the Freedmen's Bureau a part of the War Department. It makes its officers and agents amenable to the rules and articles of war Does that extend military jurisdiction over the whole country? How do they differ from any other portion of the army of the United States? The army of the United States is governed by rules and articles wherever it may be, whether in Indiana or Florida; and all operations in it are a portion of the military establishment and are subject to the rules and articles of war But did anybody ever suppose that the whole country where they were was under military jurisdiction?

Mr Trumbull continued, in reply to the objection that this bill establishes military jurisdiction in civil cases and denying that it created any military jurisdiction whatever not now existing The officers of the Bureau were officers of the Army of the United States who are now holding military commissions by authority of the President all over the South But a short time since, in Georgia, two citizens were arraigned for crime not before a civil court by process of civil law but before a military commission, and he thanked God that those culprits being found guilty, were sentenced to death and hanged by direct approval and authority of the President himself Was it then unconstitutional to do by virtue of a law of Congress what is being done every day without one?

By what authority he would ask, in this time of peace could we confer this authority on one branch of the army and deny it to another? If the rebellion is at an end by what authority did the President suspend the writ of habeas corpus? If the President could not reconcile those unusual acts to the words of the Constitution why did he exercise it? Would it detract from its authority to give it the sanction of law? He reviewed the objection that the act would establish a permanent rank of public administration having greatly enlarged powers, He denied that its establishment was permanent or that its powers were greatly enlarged In fact its powers were in some respects restricted He proceeded to show the relative degree of power confided to the two bills, and the disapproval under which he presumed that the President had labored He wished to refer to the extraordinary suggestion of the President that 4,000,000 of former slaves were to be provided for by this bill and to the objection made on the ground of expense He declared that [illegible] of 4,000,000 had ever received the aid of the Bureau and quoted from Gen Howard's report to show that [illegible] 000 negroes had been fed and 41 000 whites and that the number was certainly [illegible] so that in December last the number was reduced to 17 000 He alluded to the testimony of Gen Fisk Assistant Commissioner for Tennessee, showing that less than 200 orphan children and aged persons are the only negroes receiving aid that in [illegible] the [illegible] of rations was reduced from $25 000 to $8,000 and that [illegible] 000 persons fed 17 000 were whites The effect of the Bureau [illegible] asserted, was to decrease the cost of supporting both freedmen and refugees It had invariably had this effect reducing the amount which had been distributed by army commissaries and actually decreased the expense which the dictates of humanity in the army had occasioned In reply to the suggestion of the President, that while the freedmen should be protected it should be through the civil power of the courts he referred to the enactments of the Legislature of Mississippi which prohibited the holding or leasing of land by freedmen giving to the whites, in certain cases, power over their persons, and in other respects infringing on their natural rights. He showed that in some localities they were not permitted to hire themselves out without the consent of their former masters, and were restricted in their rights to travel and whipped if found away from their homes without a pass. There was no protection for the freedmen in the courts of the laws of the rebellious States and without this they would be despoiled of all their rights He thought it extraordinary that the President in giving this opinion that the bill was unconstitutional, had made no mention of that clause under which its friends especially claimed its authorization, the second clause of the Amendment abolishing slavery; and, instead of standing in doubt as to its constitutionality, he felt that he should have failed in his constitutional duty if he had refused to favor it

In considering the last objection, the absence of representatives of the States affected by its provisions he held that if it was valid Congress had no right to pass a law levying direct taxes upon those States no right to declare those States in rebellion, or to pass a law to blockade their ports

Letter from San Francisco.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

Matters and things generally in this commercial metropolis, are somewhat after the old style; with the exception that a vast number of emigration from New York and other points are en route for the "Upper Country" California no longer holds the exclusive right to the title of the Golden State; but Oregon, Idaho and Montana are the coming countries, offering the widest margin for the profitable investment of capital and energy.

Trade here seems to be very brisk, and times lively, "with an upward tendency" Stocks in Uncle Sam's Bank is coming up, confidence in the old gentleman's scrip, is improving, and circumstances indicate that the advance will prove permanent, and that fluctuations will be less frequent than heretofore We have recent advices (private) from the States, and times there are growing very dull One man writes from Michigan that the price of produce in his district will not pay for the labor invested in putting in and harvesting the crop We have conversed with several individuals who recently arrived here from New York, and they report a large prospective emigration to this coast the coming [illegible], owing to the hard times ahead. There is a vast number of adventurers here who propose to set out for Blackfoot as soon as the roads become passable The facilities for travel between here and your city offer greater advantages for transportation and travel to the upper country via the upper Columbia, than any other route, and the traveling public would do well to thoroughly investigate its claims before setting out on any other

We learn that great excitement prevailed at Sacramento over the recent arrival at that place, of the prisoner arrested in Idaho as the reputed murderer, Wells A vast number of individuals declare that "they have struck the right man this time," whilst an equally great number declare that the prisoner will have not the least trouble in proving his identity as a different person.

We have found this city ruled more by excitement than any place it was ever our lot to visit. The exciting and fabulous stories of the rich, extensive and valuable mineral discoveries of this coast, have reached the most distant climes, and thousands of adventurous spirits from every nation on the earth become infatuated with a thirst for romance and sudden gain, and launching out, they land here prior to taking up their line of march in the wake of never ending excitement; hence here is found a strange admixture of the home and foreign elements—of the civilized and the barbarous, all whirling in the great sea of excitement, and drifting they know not where—nor care not, if their greed for gain can be satisfied.

The opposition steamer Montana, reached here on the evening of the 9th inst, with flying colors, and will be ready to weigh anchor for her return trip in a few days The passengers who came down on the Montana are loud in their expressions of the excellent treatment they received at the hands of the officers and waiters of the vessel; and it affords gratification to witness this state of affairs, as the traveling public has been outraged too long already by the unsparing extortions, and the miserable facilities afforded by the Ben Holliday monopoly In this respect we speak from experience We have seen scores of men crowded in the vermin ridden and filthy steerage of that old floating sepulchre, the Sierra Nevada; and there forced to subsist on such fare as hard tack and "salt horse" fare, from which the majority of dogs in Portland would turn away in disgust; and at the rate, too, of six dollars a day to the man, or twenty five dollars for the trip of four days But thanks to the new opposition, these extortions and outrages are at an end

The Montana has come to the rescue, and her staunch sisters, two in number, will soon swing into line and support her in the good work, Let this line be well supported and the 'Chico route' and all other routes overland to the upper country will cease to exist, and all transportation of freight and passengers will be via the Ocean and Columbia River The proprietors of the opposition come not with an intent to rob the people to the extent of their necessities, but to yield a just and fair equivalent for all money received, whether they have opposition from the old monopoly or not

We will, in all probability, leave this city for New York on the 15th inst, from which point we will forward you other items W S

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

WEDNESDAY MORNING MARCH 21, 1866.

The Duty of Union Men

The primaries of this county have been held, and it is presumed that the candidates for the local offices have some idea what the result will be in the county Convention next Saturday. It was to be expected that some would be disappointed, but we had not permitted ourselves to think that any would be so greatly dissatisfied as to counsel an appeal from the decision which has been rendered. We sincerely hope that there may be a perfect and hearty acquiescence in what has been done. The delegates elect are all known to be uncompromising Union men, and they will nominate none but Unionists next Saturday. We are sorry to be informed that there is a disposition among some parties to complain of the results of yesterday's meetings, and we learn with regret that some have intimated that they will not willingly submit to the action that has been had. Grant that everybody is not satisfied with what has been done, how can those of our friends who make complaints do better than to fall in with the regular organization and work for the success of the party? If we divide we are beaten; if Multnomah county does not present an unbroken front to the enemy, there is danger that we may lose the State. We cannot afford to jeopard the cause by dissensions among ourselves. Let all Union men, then, subordinate everything else to their desire to keep both the county and the State out of the hands of the Copperheads. It is said that there was not a full expression of the will of the party yesterday? Even if this be true, was it not in a great measure owing to the inattention of those who feel aggrieved, or to their refusal to take part in the proceedings? If there are any who feel disposed not to submit, they should remember that by a counter movement they would put themselves before the Union party of the State in opposition to the regular organization and would be regarded here and elsewhere as "bolters" from the party. There never has been a time when it was more imperatively necessary for all Union men to stand together and work together than now. Harmony will give us victory; dissension invites defeat. The State expects the Union men of Portland and Multnomah county to do their duty—to stand firm in the coming contest. Shall our brethren in other parts of the State who are contending for victory appeal to us in vain? No! let us never [illegible] those who refuse to aid their country in its day of trial to have [illegible] opportunity to do her so great a wrong!

"The Negro Equality I[illegible]"

The Herald is k[illegible] to open its broad, and to give [illegible] editions of what it calls the Democratic faith. In each succeeding number, it presents us with a new political "issue for consideration." Two days ago the "pending issues," were—First, the immediate admission of the Southern representatives, and second, the taxation of United States bonds. Yesterday it had a third "issue," that of "equality of the races." This last "issue" is the principle article in the Democratic creed. Fear of, and opposition to negro equality is about the only great principle the Democracy now have to stand on. They make the most of this ancient and hard ridden hobby, falling back upon it as on an impregnable position as often as they find themselves unable to make advances in any other direction. Not a measure can be proposed which is calculated merely to render justice to the colored race, or to do away with the odious practice of class legislation, that does not meet with violent opposition from the Democracy. These sharp-sighted individuals, so full of fear lest their gentle blood may become corrupted by admixture with that of the African, cry "negro equality" and "mongrelization" even when it is proposed to do no more than give colored men the right to sue in the courts for their wages, or to obtain redress for a personal injury. To give an example, the Herald of yesterday is greatly exercised by the discovery of a telegraphic dispatch of a few days ago, which runs in this wise:

Wilson, of Iowa, reported back the civil rights bill. The first [illegible] was amended so as to read, "All persons born in the United States and not subject to any foreign power, excluding Indians not taxed, are hereby declared to be citizens of the United States, without distinction of color. Inhabitants of every race and color, without regard to any previous condition, shall have the right to make and enforce contracts, sue and be parties to suits, to give evidence, and to inherit, purchase, lease, sell, hold and convey real and personal property, and have the full benefit of all laws for the security of person or property; shall be subject to like punishment, pains and penalties; and to none other any law, statute, ordinance, regulation or custom to the contrary notwithstanding."

Now what is the signification of the above proposition? Does it mean negro equality? Yes, if "equality before the law" be the thing meant; no, if social equality, or equality of political rights, be the thing to which reference is made. Since, then, it is not the aim of the civil rights bill to [illegible] to attempt to establish social and political equality between the races, what is there in it to be complained of? Why do Democrats raise objections against it? The truth is the Democracy are opposed to the impartial administration of justice. They want laws which shall discriminate between men, and which shall oppress one class and favor another. The party or faction which would deny the enjoyment of natural and civil rights to any one class of people, would readily [illegible] to deprive others of the same rights [illegible] there was a hope that such a project could succeed. This protest against the practice of injustice toward all classes, is a manifestation of the spirit which rules an oligarchy—that most dangerous combination against the rights and liberties of men.

Notwithstanding the ardor of the Herald in opposing negro equality, we beg to suggest that that journal is not quite consistent. After condemning the "Radicals" for making an attempt to enact a law guaranteeing civil rights to all classes, the Herald praises President Johnson for having written a letter to Gov. Sharkey of Mississippi urging the Convention of that State to give the blacks not only the right to sue in the Courts, &c., but also that first of political rights, the elective franchise! The Herald is indignant to find that Congress proposes to place all men on an equality before the law; but likes the President's plan of giving negroes full civil rights, as well as the right of suffrage with certain restrictions as to intelligence, property, military services, &c. This is a step further toward "negro equality" than the mass of the Union party have yet gone. The Democratic party would not give civil rights to the blacks, but it would both give them civil rights and extend to them the elective franchise. The obstinate opposition of the Democracy to the "equality of the races," has quite overleaped itself.

NEEDS ATTENTION.—There are constantly recurring reports of Indian depredations on the Canyon City road. The Mountaineer of the 18th referring to the fact says there has not been a day in the last four years in which the road could be traveled in perfect safety. There is too much truth in that statement. The military authorities will probably not pay much heed to newspaper paragraphs on this or any other subject, but they ought to know, if they do not, that the people of that country are entitled to protection and that they have time and again asked for it in earnest terms. They have suffered severely in loss of men, stock and from frequent interruptions of business. The military could, if they would, put an end to such a state of things, but in the past the people have appealed only in vain for assistance and it remains to be seen whether the new regime will be any more disposed to listen favorably to their petitions. At present, there is only a small force at Camp Watson to protect a district which ought to have constantly within it, from one hundred and fifty to two hundred men.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO MARCH 20.

Congressional Proceedings

WASHINGTON, March 19.—In the House, Hooper introduced the following: Be it enacted that the act of March 3d 1865 shall be extended and construed so as to empower the Secretary of the Treasury to sell any description of bonds authorized by said act at rates not less than par for lawful money, or for certificates of indebtedness, which shall then [illegible] so that the public debt be not increased, and after July 1st interest on certificates [illegible] shall not exceed [illegible] per cent. [illegible] this, as I wished to have it referred. It embodied what would seem from the discussion of last week to be the sentiment of a large majority of [illegible].

The bill was reported and referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr Kasson of Iowa introduced a bill to amend the Act of July 13th, 1862, to aid the construction of a railroad and telegraph from the Missouri river to the Pacific. Referred to committee on Pacific Railroad.

Mr Bidwell of Cal, introduced a bill to enable the State of California to reclaim lands within the limits of the State. Referred.

Mr Dawson of Penn, offered a resolution reciting that the United States cannot guarantee bonds of the Mexican Republic or any other government without impairing its own credit and imposing new burdens on the people. The House refused to second the demand for the previous question and the resolution went over.

Mr Windom, of Minn. introduced a joint resolution authorizing the Secretary of the Interior to pay certain claimants of the appropriation for expenses of Indian Affairs. Referred.

Mr Garfield, of Ohio, offered a resolution which was voted down, directing the committee on printing to inquire into the expediency of publishing accounts of exploration across the great basin of Utah to San Francisco in 1859, by Capt Simpson, of the Engineer Corps.

Mr Garfield's motion to reconsider the vote by which the loan bill was lost on Friday, came up, and a motion to lay that motion on the table, was defeated. Ayes 2[illegible]; noes 79. The bill subsequently passed, by a vote of 81 to 51.

A concurrent resolution was offered that Congress adjourn on Tuesday, blank day of May.

Mr Washburne, of Ills. asked if it was in order to fill the blank with the last Thursday in May.

Speaker said only by unanimous consent.

Mr Jenks, of R I objected.

Mr Morrill, of Vt, remarked that such a resolution was premature, until the appropriation bill passed and called for the ayes and noes, which resulted, ayes 60 noes 64. So the resolution passed.

Mr Coffroth of Penn, offered a resolution which was adopted, instructing the military committee to report at an early day a bill for equalizing bounties for all soldiers and sailors during the late war.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—In the Senate Wilson reported House bill appointing twelve trustees for the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home, to obviate the difficulty of getting a quorum of the one hundred corporators together, and it was passed. The bill now goes to the President.

Fessenden, of Maine, made explanation about the published letters of Wm A Graham, saying that Joint Committee could not allow his (Graham's) request to cross-examine witnesses. They desired the investigation to be full and impartial, and were ready to hear any witness who could throw any light on the subject. Graham was of the belief that the testimony had closed because the evidence was stringent; it had not closed except in the case of Tennessee and if Graham wished to introduce further testimony in the case of North Carolina, he could do so.

Conness, of California, introduced the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Navy furnish Congress with the report of Naval observation on the survey of the proposed routes of the railroad in Central America, specifying the relative merits of the Honduras, Tehuantepec, Nicaragua and Panama lines. Also information whether the Isthmus of Darien had been satisfactorily explored.

Williams, of Oregon, introduced a bill for equalizing bounties on the basis of $13 per month, the bounties heretofore paid to be deducted and the proceeds in common to be specially assigned for this purpose. Referred to the military committee.

The House concurrent resolution providing for the adjournment of Congress, was referred to the committee on finance.

Doolittle, of Wisconsin, called up the bill for annual inspection of Indian affairs, which establishes five districts; 1st, Nevada and California; 2d, Oregon, Washington and Idaho; 3d Colorado, Utah and Mexico; 4th Kansas and South Dakota; 5th, Minnesota, Northern Dakotah and Montana. It provides for the appointment of five inspectors by the President, to hold office for four years; each of said inspectors to be joined by an officer of the army and by a citizen, annually appointed. The board so organized are to make an annual inspection of all treaties in their respective districts, and appoint their successors.

Wisconsin Refuses to Restore Death Penalty.

CHICAGO, March 19.—The bill restoring the death penalty was defeated in the Wisconsin House of Representatives, ayes 34, noes 50.

Fenian Affairs.

NEW YORK, March 20.—In this city the central council of the Fenians at Union Square, are in secret session, but nothing of their proceedings has been given to the public. The funds and rifles are still flooding in, both here and at the Sweeney headquarters, and it is reported that most important features are now in process of development. It is currently reported that Mahoney has, within a few days, sent off an expedition of 5,000 men to some point unknown to the public. The total strength of Sweeney's force organized into regiments and battalions up to date, is given as 135,091, and it is stated that before the month is passed the number will be doubled. Contributions of money and munitions of war continue to pour in to the treasury and ordnance departments of both branches of the brotherhood.

California News.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—Some time during Saturday night or Sunday, the Clerk's office of the State Capital, was opened by means of duplicate keys, and robbed of $1,580 in gold coin, the property of the county. The thieves left $2,500 in silver, it being too heavy to carry off. No clue has been obtained as to the robbers.

[illegible] by his Attorney, H. O. McAllister, has filed a demurrer to the complaint of Caroline Clark, in the breach of promise case. The defendant demurred on the following several grounds: First, that the complaint does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action. Second, the complaint was, that the defendant promised to marry the plaintiff within a reasonable length of time, but does not aver that a reasonable time for the performance of such promise passed between the date of such promise and the commencement of this action. 3d, that the complaint is ambiguous, unintelligible and uncertain.

Dr. Jno. Grant has commenced suit in the 14th District Court against H. H. Pierson, et al, proprietor of the Russ House, to recover $4,475, alleged to have been deposited in the hotel safe, and stolen at the time of the robbery. The plaintiff is from Santa Cruz.

Resolved, That we will ever support the State Governments in all their Constitutional rights, as the most competent administrators of their domestic concerns, and the surest bulwarks against anti-republican tendencies, and preserve the General Government in its whole Constitutional vigor, as the sheet-anchor of our peace at home and safety abroad.

The following were adopted by the Marion County Union Convention.

Resolved, That we have the fullest confidence in the loyalty patriotism and discretion of our delegates acting with the other State delegates in said Convention to embody into a State platform the principles of harmony and unconditional Unionism which every Union loving and treason hating man in Oregon can fully endorse.

Resolved, That we will give our unqualified support to the nominees of this Convention.

The OLDEST AND LARGEST LIFE INSURANCE CO. In the United States!

EVERY DESCRIPTION OF POLICY ISSUED.

ALL POLICIES ARE NON-FORFEITABLE

Dividends are declared Annually—which can be applied as Cash in reducing the yearly premium commencing on the second year, or towards buying more insurance.

The last Dividend (Feb 1st, 1866) was nearly [illegible] in amount and in proportion to premiums paid than was ever [illegible] in the same space of time by any other Company in the world.

EXAMPLES OF DIVIDENDS ON POLICIES ISSUED IN 1864.

Am't Policy.	Am't Dividends.	Am't Premiums Paid.
$10,000 00	$570 00	$358 00
10,000 00	558 62	204 80
5,000 00	197 38	111 40
5,000 00	118 48	96 84

EXAMPLES OF POLICIES PAID BY THE COMPANY.

Orig'l Am't Policy.	Dividend [illegible]	Total Am't Pd.
$10,000 00	$6,926 00	$16,926 00
5,000 00	3,278 48	8,278 48
4,000 00	2,369 48	6,369 48
1,000 00	1,508 30	2,508 30

N B—Particular attention is [illegible] to the advantages afforded by the payment of the premiums, on both Life and Endowment assurance policies, in THE ANNUAL INSTALMENTS. The rates of such [illegible] charged by this Company are lower, while the dividends [illegible] than in any other life company in the United States. As an additional inducement, the Company will, on surrender of such policy, [illegible] paid-up policy for an equitable sum, which they will guarantee [illegible] the papers.

For instance, on surrender of a policy for $10,000 (other amounts in the same proportion,) on which the premiums are payable in ten annual instalments, the Company will issue a PAID-UP POLICY which they will guarantee.

After the payment of 2 premiums SHALL EXCEED $2000
" " 3 " " 3000

And so on. On the Five Year Life Plan the pro rata is double.

ENDOWMENT POLICIES are [illegible] payable to the assured at death or any age between 40 and 55, with full participation in the surplus of the Company, thus combining Life Insurance with a safe and profitable investment.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION is called to the Table of Rates by Ten Annual Instalments for "Endowments" issued by this Company, which possess UNEQUALED ATTRACTIONS, EITHER AS AN INVESTMENT OR PROVISION IN CASE OF PREMATURE DEATH, for it is now universally conceded that aside from the Life Insurance which is combined with the Policy, that there is no way of investing small instalments in so safe and highly advantageous a manner, as it gives the assured the entire benefits of an immense capital and well regulated Financial Institution. To parties in business this is invaluable, and by many is considered an actual necessity for present purposes ALONE, for aside from its many other advantages it constitutes the VERY FINEST FORM OF COLLATERAL upon which to borrow or convert into cash in cases of emergency, which can be readily accomplished, and for a far greater sum than has been expended on the Policy—inasmuch as from the first it shares in the immense dividends of the Company—and is non-forfeitable for a full proportionate amount of the entire policy for each and every year's payment paid thereon.

The above class of Policy is attracting much attention throughout the United States. THOUSANDS who have heretofore declined insuring are now rapidly availing themselves of its benefits, as the marvelous rate of increase in the assets of this Company will attest. The cash assets of this Company alone, exceed in amount the total cash assets of the other sixteen companies combined, incorporated in the State of New York while the CASH dividends for the last two years were nearly double that ever declared by any other Company.

Parties desirous to insure should start in at once to SECURE A FULL YEAR'S DIVIDEND to be declared February 1st 1867. Apply to

REMAINS OF A MASTODON.—Gen. Joel Palmer arrived in this city yesterday from Dayton, having in charge several well preserved parts of the mammoth animal known as the mastodon, now extinct, and only regarded [illegible]. The discovery was made one day by the [illegible] when excavating on the west bank of Palmer's [illegible] three hundred yards from the Yamhill river. [illegible] was some fourteen feet deep where the remains were taken out, and has every appearance of being the [illegible], as trees from one to four feet in diameter [illegible] upon the surface. Strata of clay and sand [illegible] to the depth attained. Among the specimens [illegible] of which is four by six inches in size [illegible], the other four by seven inches in size [illegible] from right to ten inches, and weighs [illegible], a part of the jaw bone still being attached [illegible] smaller one weighs about ten pounds—both [illegible] state of preservation, and the soft marrow in [illegible]. There is also one entire tusk and [illegible], the largest measuring six and a half [illegible] at its largest circumference. These [illegible] preserved, and it has been necessary to [illegible] with great care. This material will be [illegible] to zoologists, and we believe it is the purpose of [illegible] to New York or Washington. [illegible] of the mastodon have been found in the [illegible] of the Missouri. The finest specimens that [illegible] in North America, have come from New [illegible] and Alabama. The skeleton now at [illegible] was discovered in Warren county, New Jersey, in 1844. The first remains discovered in North America was about the year 1705; but not until 1801 was there anything like a complete skeleton [illegible], when one was found in Orange county, N. Y., [illegible]. A few years ago some valuable [illegible] were found in Polk county, in this State, [illegible] were taken to the East, and are now in one of the [illegible] of the country. What Oregon may [illegible] future [illegible] to be seen. The indentations [illegible] in rocks of Santiam, spoken of by our [illegible] last summer, is a matter that should attract attention from the skilled in the science of natural [illegible].

[illegible].—From gentlemen in this city who [illegible] New York during the time Asa S. Mercer was [illegible] to get a cargo of women for Washington Territory, [illegible] informed that some of the basest schemes [illegible] brought to light concerning the transactions [illegible]. It is believed that the principal in them [illegible] a sum of money on account of the [illegible]. The dispatches have, previous to this, [illegible] stories, which the passengers corroborate, [illegible] all the influence seems to be that Mercer [illegible] very irreligiously. By Way of Oregon to Montana.—Mr. A. C. Ripley, passenger by the Pacific, informs us that the San Francisco merchants are convinced of the superiority of the Oregon route to Montana over all others, and have gone to work in good earnest to raise a portion of the necessary funds for opening a road starting from the most feasible point on the Columbia river. When Mr. Ripley left, the sum of $6,250 had been subscribed and would be ready for application on the road whenever there should be a reasonable assurance that their northern neighbors had also taken hold of the matter with determination. It had become very clear that the advocates of the Colorado route had pecuniary interests to serve in setting forth its advantages, but the business men of San Francisco were unable to see that that route is much superior to that via New Orleans and they had very generally decided not to take stock in it. We think that we can be assured of California aid, if we manifest any disposition to help ourselves. The merchants of Oregon and especially of Portland, are certainly very careless of their own good, if they do not at once accept the proffered helping hand of San Francisco, and make a corresponding effort to secure the trade of Montana while not yet too late.

President Johnson acts wisely and nobly in assuming that those States should be represented in the councils of the nation, and that the past, as far as may be, should be buried in oblivion.—Oregon Herald.

First, as a matter of justice, a few of the instigators of the rebellion should be buried. Second, as a guarantee for the good faith of those States, their people should bury the vindictive hate of the Government which Brownlow says they still openly declare. Third, the policy of sending representatives who have just stripped off rebel epaulettes, must be buried. Fourth, all the damnable relics of secession must be buried, and then there can be no objection to those States being represented in Congress. Till then we are not in favor of closing the burial ceremonies.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated

PLANTATION BITTERS,

Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities, and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and must supercede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.
They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of impostors. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unmutilated over the cork, with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in bulk, is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

The Pilot Question

LIGHT HOUSE, CAPE DISAPPOINTMENT, March 16, 1866.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

Believing you to be desirous of giving credit where credit is due, I wish to correct a few mistakes in a recent article in the OREGONIAN which are so easily refuted by eye witnesses, that I can not conceive of any reliable man, giving you that information for publication unless he was direct from Astoria. I allude to this: "The Montana, a ship that was detained outside as will be seen by the memoranda fifty six hours uselessly. There can be no excuse for this last act." For the last ten months I have acted as light house keeper at Cape Disappointment, which you remember over looks the bay of the Columbia; therefore, I claim to have a knowledge of what I write. On the morning of February 27th it was my watch at the light house. Daylight came with stormy gales from the west and thick squally weather. The bar was very rough, at times the sea breaking quite across the channel. A bark was in sight quite close in. The Rabboni was then at moorings in Baker's Bay. One of her officers was at the light house on the lookout, bright and early. Upon his reporting the bark, I noticed that the fires were started, steam gotten up, while the captain and pilot proceeded to the summit of the hill with their glasses to examine the passage. About 9, A. M., the tug cast off and under a full head of steam started out. A steam tug going out or a ship coming in is no novelty to me and I seldom take the trouble to walk up the hill to see either, but this morning from what I had seen of the bar from the light house, I did not think it possible for any craft to live in such a sea as was then running. I with several others started up the hill to watch what I called the rashness (to use a mild term) of Captain Corno in trying to go out at such a time.

The light house is perhaps ten minutes walk from the bay, and I reached it in time to see the tug ship one sea, which flooded her deck fore and aft, upon which he very prudently wore round and steered for Astoria, as your account says, to wood. Allow me here to correct that statement. Capt. Corno has a pile of wood at the landing here ready for use, and only the day previous I saw from my house his crew boating off all they needed for present use. The truth is, the tug had been here in waiting for the period of five days, during which time there was not an hour, while the sun was above the horizon, but Capt. Corno, or some of his ship's company, were on the hill, with glass in hand, scanning the ocean for vessels. The evening previous, the Pacific came in; and Capt. Corno, finding he could not get out to the bark, ran up to Astoria (only an hour's sail) to obtain some information that of Montana. At the time the tug started for Astoria, the wind was blowing heavily and the rain coming down in torrents, and the atmosphere was so thick, that a ship could not be seen at the distance of half a mile. This state of things continued until about 11 A. M., when the weather cleared up, and the bark was seen some twelve miles, or more, away to the north. At the same time, the Montana hove in sight, with signal flying for a pilot, and soon after firing guns, which could not be heard on shore. At this time the Rabboni was in sight, two miles below Astoria, steering for that place. At noon I reported the state of affairs, to the head keeper of the light house, who immediately proceeded to make signals for the Rabboni, as previously agreed upon.

You say in your article, "the agent of the Mon—ha had given notice that she would arrive about such a time." Very true, and when Capt. Corno landed at Astoria, he received the written notice, requesting a pilot to be in readiness. In ten minutes after seeing it, the "word" was all on board—steam up—and the Rabboni steaming down the Columbia at the rate of twelve or fourteen miles per hour. He now tried the South channel, but in vain. No steamer that ever navigated this river, could have crossed the bar at that time, except as a wreck. As proof of this, we have, a few days later, the Pacific with one of the "brotherhood" pilots in charge, laying at anchor in Baker's Bay, with a much smoother bar, and probably would have stayed a little longer, had not the Montana, outward bound, hove in sight, and roused them from their mooring. That the Rabboni can cross the bar when any of the sea-going steamers can, we have had ample proof. One instance occurred lately. The Sierra Nevada, after being aground up the river, came down and lay here five days on account of a bad bar. At the same time, the Scranton was detained from the same cause. The day that the Sierra Nevada thought it safe to cross, the tug also crossed with the Scranton in tow. And now Capt. Corno gives public notice, that if any steamer will take his pilots, he will follow them out, and receive the pilot outside, or founder in the attempt.

Of Capt. Corno's short-comings, I only wish to state the facts in this case. It is very evident that he has succeeded with his Rabboni, in stirring up a goodly amount of opposition, to say nothing of envy, jealousy, etc. One year ago to-day, the bark Industry, a vessel in which Capt. Corno was deeply interested, struck on this bar. A valuable ship and cargo, and seven lives were lost [illegible] hands and willing hearts stood by, almost within hail, but powerless. Such a craft as the Rabboni could have saved all. This was not the first lamentable loss [illegible], but it was fondly hoped it would be the last. Many hearts beat lighter, when it was known that a steam tug was to be placed at the mouth of the river. It was anxiously waited for, and its arrival at last, was [illegible] with shouts of gladness by all, except some three or four men of Astoria already wealthy, who would now be compelled to change their business, or retire with a competency, and a few wreckers, who built their hopes upon the misfortunes and losses of others. By these, and their friends, the Rabboni is decried a worthless humbug, and Capt. Corno held up to the public as a criminal. (See Astoria Gazette, of February 25.)

Brought up as I have been, amid the perils and dangers of the whale fishery, alike familiar with the gales of the Arctic, the storms of the Atlantic and Cyclones of the Indian ocean, I claim to know the difference between rashness and prudence, of incompetence and skillfulness in nautical affairs, when brought to my notice. Since the Rabboni has been on this station, she has always been a strict lookout kept for vessels outside, and promptness and diligence used in boarding them. When the tug is at Astoria, signals from the lookout are made by the light-keepers, and promptly attended to.

Such, Mr. Editor, are some of the facts in this case which can be attested to, by several witnesses, if necessary.

As to Capt. Connor's skill and courage among breakers, I can only wish his detractors to be placed on his deck whenever he attempts to cross the bar, and is necessitated to turn back. They would be cleaner, if not better men. Whatever Capt. Connor may be elsewhere, on the Rabboni's decks, at the mouth of the Columbia, he is the "right man in the right place."

For the information of such of your readers as may not be posted in nautical affairs, I would say that it is perfectly safe and prudent to come in over the Columbia bar, in a steamer with a pilot on board, when it would be utterly impossible to go out. Had there been a pilot on board the Montana when she arrived, there would not have been an hour's detention. The difference between coming in and going out, is simply the ship sailing along in above water, or going out with the water above the ship. HENRY F. GIFFORD,

Ass't Keeper Cape Disappointment.

We, the undersigned citizens of Oregon, now residing at Cape Disappointment, and employed by the U. S. Government, certify to the foregoing facts. Every incident therein mentioned, has been witnessed by us either individually or collectively. As individuals, the success of Capt. Corno is nothing to us, but the best interests of Oregon demands that this great highway to the ocean should be made as safe for life and property as possible, and when a better tug and more competent Master is placed on this bar, we will cheerfully give them our influence and support; until then, we believe it to be the imperative duty of every citizen who has the best interests of his adopted State at heart, to uphold and support Paul Corno and the tug Rabboni.

J. W. MUNSON, principal light keeper Cape Disappointment; JAMES ANDERSON, assistant light keeper, Cape Disappointment; H. STOOP, Master builder, Fort Hancock, Cape Disappointment; H. L. PIKE, Master Painter, Fort Hancock, Cape Disappointment; GEO. W. HARRIS, Master U. S. schooner Margaret.

ENGLISH VERSUS LATIN.—Once upon a time a company was assembled at the dinner table in a hotel in Georgia, when the conversation turned upon the comparative merits of the English and the Latin languages. A Latinist present led off the enthusiastic eulogies upon the power and versatility of his favorite language, and adduced in illustration the celebrated despatch of Cæsar—Veni, vidi, vici. "What" exclaimed he, "can equal the condensed brevity and force of that!" A guest who had hitherto remained silent here joined in the conversation and said he thought he could match it and something more. "As I was nearing a certain river the other day," he went on to observe, "I met a country girl with a plate of fresh butter on her head, who was on her way to market with it to the village and who had just forded the stream which I was to cross. Accosting her, I inquired, 'How high is the river and what is the price of butter?' She instantly replied, 'Up to my waist and a shilling.'" The roar that greeted this indicated the popular vote, and the Latinist subsided.—Louisville Journal.

THE SEA ISLAND PLANTATIONS—LETTER FROM GEN. SHERMAN.—Messrs. Tresc[illegible] and Wholey, who are in Washington city on behalf of South Carolina and the owners of the sea island plantations which were assigned to the negroes by Gen. Sherman's celebrated Field Order No. 15 of 1865, have indirectly succeeded in drawing from the latter the following reasons for its issuance and the extent of the possessory title intended to be there by conveyed:—

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2, 1866.

To ANDREW JOHNSON, President of the United States—SIR—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt last evening of your letter of February 1st, and in compliance with your request enclose herewith a copy of Field Order No. 15 of 1865, with this brief history of its origin and the reasons for making it.

The Hon. E. M. Stanton, Secretary of War, came to Savannah soon after its occupation by the forces under my command, and conferred freely with me as to the best method to provide for the vast number of negroes who had followed the army from the interior of Georgia, as also of those who had already congregated on the island near Hilton Head and were still coming into our lines. We agreed perfectly that the young and able bodied men should be enlisted as soldiers or employed by the quartermaster in the necessary work of unloading ships and for other army purposes, but this left on our hands the old and feeble, the women and children, who had necessarily to be fed by the United States. Mr. Stanton summoned a large number of the old negroes, mostly preachers, with whom he had a long conference, of which he took down notes. After this conference he was satisfied the negroes could, with some little aid from the United States, by means of the abandoned plantations on the sea islands and along the navigable rivers, take care of themselves. He requested me to draw up a form that would be uniform and practicable. I made the rough draft, and we went over it very carefully, Mr. Stanton making many changes, and the present orders No. 15 resulted and were made public.

I knew, of course, we could not convey title to land, and merely provided "possessory" titles, to be good so long as war and our military power lasted. I merely aimed to make provision for the negroes who were absolutely dependent on us, leaving the value of their possession to be determined by after events or legislation. At that time (January, 1865) it will be remembered that the tone of the people of the South was very defiant, and no one could foretell when the period of war would cease. Therefore I did not contemplate that event as being so near at hand.

I am, with great respect, your obedient servant, W. T. SHERMAN, Major General.

JOSH BILLINGS ON LAFFING.—Laffing is strikly an amusement, altho sum folks make a bizness ov it.

It has bin considered an index ov karakter, and there is sum so cluss at reasoning that they say they kan tell what a man had for dinner bi seeing him laff.

I never saw two laff alike.

While there are sum who don't make enny noize, there are sum who don't make anything but noize—and sum, agin, who have musik in their laff, and others who laff just as a rat dus who has kaught a steel trap with his tale.

There iz no mistake in the assershun that it iz a comfort to hear sum laffs that cum rompling out ov a man's mouth—like a districk school ov young girls just let out tew play.

Men who never laff, may hev good hearts but they are deep seated—like sum springs, they hev their inlet and outlet from below, and show no sparkling babble on the brim.

I don't like a giggler; his kind of laugh is like the dandylion, a broad yeller, and not a bit ov good smell about it.

It iz true that enny kind ov a laff, if it iz honest is better than none, but giv me the laff that looks out ov a man's eyes, fust, to see if the coast is clear, then steals down into the dimple of his cheek and rides in an eddy there awhile, then waltzes a spell at the corner ov his mouth like a thing ov life, then bursts its bonds ov beauty and fills the air for a moment with a shower of silvery-tongued sparks, then steals bak with a smile tew its lair in the heart tew watch again for its prey—this is the kind of laff that I luv and ain't afraid ov.

RECORD OF A FEMALE DRUNKARD.—Mary Holt, who died in the streets on Saturday last, commenced serving in the County Jail in this city, January 7th, 1860, since which time she has served the following number of days: In 1860, 210 days, in 1861, 251; in 1862, 190; in 1863, during a considerable part of which year she was in Sacramento, 85; in 1864, 289; in 1865, 245; in 1866, 34—total in six years and two months, 1,318 days. In addition to this, she spent during the same years, at least, 300 days in the calaboose awaiting trial on different charges.—Alta Californian.

The Pittsburg Commercial, it is said, sunk seventy thousand dollars to get a start in the world. This will give those who think it "as easy as rolling off a log" to establish a first-class daily newspaper, some idea of the expense attending the enterprise.

Public Sale

Of Land for Street Assessments.

NOTICE is hereby given that by virtue of Warrants duly issued by order of the Common Council of the City of Portland, and to me directed, commanding me to levy upon and sell according to law each of the pieces and parcels of land hereinafter described to make the assessments upon said parcels of land, declared by Ordinance No. 263, for the purpose of improving Washington street between Front and East Park streets, in said city, and which assessments have not been paid and are now delinquent:

Now, in pursuance of said Warrants I have levied upon and on the 14th day of April, A. WATER WHEELS.

POWER PLEDGED EQUAL

TO THE

Best Overshot Wheel in Existence.

American Double Turbine Water Wheel

IS NOW MANUFACTURED BY THE OREGON IRON Works, in the city of Portland, and orders for the same can be filled immediately. We have a small supply of the different sizes, from 10 inches to 48 inches in diameter. That we may know the proper sized wheel you require, measure your water in the following way: Take the width of the stream, the average depth, and the distance it flows in a minute.

All the wheels now in use give universal satisfaction. Both the construction of the wheel and its performances, commend it to the better judgment of all who are capable of appreciating the highest development of mechanical construction. Therefore it has conquered the most violent opposition.

This wheel is especially adapted to mining purposes. It is light, and can be easily packed into the mountains. Wheels weighing from 100 to 300 pounds will yield from 10 to 40 horse power, under a head of 25 or 30 feet. They are the cheapest wheel to set up known, as they are so arranged as to produce the greatest power possible from the water used.

The prices of these wheels have now been reduced to the ability of all. Come and see them or send for a circular to LEFFEL & MYERS, Oregon Iron Works, Portland, Oregon.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

617 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc., Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a [illegible] existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, so that they are cured for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, humbugging upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, he should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this [illegible] by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.
